CURLY KOA SERIES

It curls because it can....

DESIGNER SERIES

Viva la difference!

It's the different densities of woods that give us the vast choices in sonic possibilities, but with different possibilities the question arises "What woods would best compliment my style". The softness of Solid Spruce gives a very mellow sound that can handle a heavy strum with ease. The greater density of Solid Mahogany creates more mid range tones and can be very balanced for a wide variety of styles. The relatively hard Cedar creates a bright tone that finger pickers enjoy.

CUSTOM SERIES

Traditional and anything but....

Koa is the wood of choice for traditional ukulele craftsmen. The crisp tone produced is the prize at the end of the tunnel for many players. However since traditions are made to be broken we developed the SM series. The difficulties we experienced when working with spalted mango were more than worth the tone that was created.
