

Jaymee's Bio...

Hailing from a musical background in Far North Queensland, 20 year old drummer Jaymee Watkin moved to Brisbane, a land of opportunity, to pursue her endeavor as a professional drummer. Over the last few years, Jaymee has been playing music at venues throughout Queensland and Northern NSW, including Byron Bay Blues Festival with Luna Junction. She has also just finished recording an EP with roots rock band, Earthbound Child which is paving its way into the hearts and iPods of Triple J Unearthed listeners throughout the country. Jaymee's musical ability combined with her laid back and enthusiastic nature contribute to her captivating stage presence and memorable live performances. With as much experience as some of Australia's more seasoned performers, and at the early age of 20, it is safe to say that Miss Watkin is likely to be a prominent face in the Australian music industry for years to come.
